POLITICAL ISSUES--In a press conference held on 28 July in Cheju, the Democratic Justice Party [DJP] leader Yi Chae-hyong said: As for the issue of lifting the ban imposed on the old politicians, the president will do it, step by step, for those who show signs of repentance, as stipulated by the law. He said no more on this subject. On the issue of revising the elections laws raised by the opposition parties, DJP leader Yi, who was in Cheju to attend a seminar sponsored by the Korea management association, showed a negative reaction to it, saying: it is not a proper time yet to talk about it and it can become a subject of discussion only when its enforcement produces an inconvenience or the situation changes. Invited to a dinner hosted by Hyon Kyong-tae, chairman of the DJP chapter of Cheju District, DJP leader Yi and Yu Chi-song, president of the Democratic Korea Party, according to congressman Hyon, talked about bygone days of politics and other private matters from the beginning to the end of the dinner. REVOCATION OF AUTO MERGER CRITICIZED

SK020210 Seoul TONG-A ILBO in Korean 27 Jul 82 p 3

[From the column "Reporter's Eye"]

[Excerpts] "There should not be any more such unfortunate enterprises as the Kia Automobile Company and the Tong-a Motor Vehicle Company in this country." This was said by one executive of the Kia side, who chaired an extraordinary general meeting of shareholders held at the life building on Yoido islet on 31 May, which was adjourned for lack of a quorum. This expression is familiar because the late President Pak Chong-hui said similar things at a ceremony for his discharge from active military service. However, the remarks by the Kia executive were very impressive, because his remarks seemed to epitomize the difficult situation surrounding some enterprises.

Since the beginning of the announcement of the auto company merger plan, chances for its success were thin. Even though they were in financial trouble, it was a little too much to expect that two giant business firms run by different managements could be simply merged at one stroke on the orders of authorities. There was, however, an unreputably good intention in the merger plan.

The question is who will take the responsibility for the money and time, which dragged for nearly 1 1/2 years wasted on the futile efforts, whose success was not expected from the beginning. Who can possibly deny that the loss inflicted on the national economy by this futile effort will be offset by taxes levied from the people?

Ultimately, we have to relearn the lesson that "the end cannot justify the means." This time, however, the lesson was too costly.

What is more, since the result is quite different from what had been expected, the concerned officials of the Ministry of Commerce and other offices are surprising us by explaining the situation differently from what they had said at the beginning.

Whether they were willing or not, the two companies had agreed to merge. The Ministry of Commerce said that the merger plan had been pushed ahead on the basis of the two companies' agreement and for the benefit of the government's plan to nationalize the auto industry. That is what the people believed.

Now the Ministry of Commerce says that it is rescinding the merger plan because: the two concerned companies were not willing at the outset; and there appears to be no substantial benefit for the pursuit of the plan, because the two companies' interests are conflicting. Who is right? We are at a loss.

If the repeal of the merger plan were due as much to the so-called business morality that they swallow up what is sweet and spit out what tastes bitter as to the bureaucratic way of thinking that they can achieve any goal if they apply the arm-twisting method, either should naturally be denounced.

Belatedly, though, the government has realized that the merger plan is problematic and has revoked it. We accept this as a courageous act. The repeal of the merger plan is a good example of the extent of what the government-guided projects can achieve and what civilian-initiated projects can. It is tantamount to a lesson that has taught the government what it should intervene in and what it should not try to intervene in. Once again we must consider how important the consistency of policy is. The bureaucrats in the government offices should take enough time to review short-term policies before enacting them.

CONCLUDING STATEMENT OF PUSAN DEFENSE

SK040329 Seoul TONG-A ILBO in Korean 2 Aug 82 p 10

[Summary of the final statement for the defense of the Pusan arsonists by defense council Yi Ton-myong at the 2 August trial]

[Text] This case is called arson at the American cultural center in Pusan.

According to the prosecution's charges, charges brought against the defendants on arson constitutes less than 10 percent of the whole charges. The rest says that the defendants viewed today's wide gap between the rich and the poor and social unreasonablenesses as stemming from contradictions in the capitalist system, and that the defendants believe only way to break away from these contradictions is to turn to a socialist system.

According to what was stated by the defendants, they did not set fire to the American cultural center to establish leftist thoughts or to overthrow the government and establish a socialist system.

What they maintained was that today's wide gap between the rich and the poor as well as social unreasonablenesses stem from undemocratic political rulings. This being the case, they maintained, the way to correct such unreasonablenesses is to overthrow the present regime and establish a genuine democratic government.

The only issue at this trial is to define whether the defendants' thoughts and actions were for the establishment of a socialist system or for the establishment of democracy, and whether their motive in setting fire to the American cultural center was to warn the United States to cease supporting the present regime or to disrupt the diplomatic relations between Korea and the United States.

If the defendants' thoughts and actions were as they claimed, we view it is the key factor of this trial to define whether their thoughts and actions were right or not.

Most of the defendants standing trial charged with having conducted group studies of subversive teachings to students, are Catholics, and the rest are on special terms with the Catholics. It is well known--proven by history and all the people living in today's world--that Catholicism and communism are antagonistic to each other. For this reason, these defendants cannot be procommunist. Nevertheless, the prosecution charges that their group studies for subversive teachings were for the establishment of communist society and it maintains the truth of its assertions.

The prosecution's charges that the defendants' motive for setting fire to the American cultural center and their group studies for subversive teachings was procommunist are based on the leaflets disseminated at the time of the arson which said that the present government was ready for a northward invasion and that the defendants were opposed to hosting the Seoul Olympics in 1988.

It is, however, unreasonable to charge them as procommunist simply because their slogans were the same as those of North Korea.

We want the court to judge whether the motivation of their acts, as argued by the defendants, including Mun Pu-sik, were right or not.

As for the case of four defendants from Wonju, including Father Choe Ki-sik--this is an example of persons who committed morally justified and respectful acts being brought to the court.

If conscientious and morally justified acts are punished, there is no room for conscience and morality in this country.

So, this case should be understood as being a phenomenon generated by the aspirations and sufferings of all the people living in this generation, as testified by Father Ham Se-ung. We earnestly plead with the court to make a good judgment on this point.

In concluding our defense statement we hold that--except for those six defendants who pleaded guilty of arson--all the defendants should be found not guilty of all charges. As for the defendants who pleaded guilty of arson, punishment for them, we hope, will be tempered with love in view of the fact that they were motivated by the sufferings and aspirations of all the people.

ASSEMBLYMEN CRITICIZE JAPANESE ON TEXTBOOK ISSUE

[From the column: "News Behind the News"]

[Text] Political circles have been making a turnaround in showing "active resistance" to Japanese distortion of historical facts. The political parties have actively moved in this regard. On 30 July, the Democratic Justice Party [DJP] volunteered to demand the early convocation of the culture-information committee of the national assembly. The Korea National Party [KNP] has formed an ad hoc committee for political development (chairman: Kim Yong-kwang) to discuss current issue. Hwang Myong-su, chairman of the independent lawmakers' fraternity group, has sent a letter of protest to Japanese Premier Suzuki.

DJP spokesman Kim Yong-tae said: Our party has already made it clear to devise measures on a gradual basis. According to our original policy, we have been coping with this issue in a systematic way.

He predicted: the culture-information committee will be a forum for gathering information about public indignation and logically discussing the contents of Japanese textbooks. In other words, the forum will see both heated excitement and cool-headed reason interwoven.

A KNP meeting went as far as to suggest boycott of the ROK-Japanese economic talks.

In his letter of protest, Hwang Myong-su, chairman of independent lawmakers' fraternity group, said: If the Japanese annexation of Korea was not "an aggression" but "an advance," were both Hideyoshi's invasion of Korea in 1592 and Japan's attack on Pearl Harbor advances such a logic is blasphemy of history.

DJP chairman Yi Chae-hyong, now on a tour in Cheju Island on official business, attacked Japan by saying at a party's youth members' meeting: 37 years ago, the Japanese fled barefoot. They have become one of world powers on the ruins of World War II. Now, again, they have begun exposing their inner thought of disdain towards Koreans.

DJP floor leader Yi Chong-chan originally planned to stop over in Japan before returning home on his way back home from a ROK-U.S. security seminar in the United States. But he is reportedly going to cancel this plan and immediately return to Seoul in consideration of current ROK-Japan relations.

JAPANESE ENVOY REMARKS--Speaking on the Korea-Japan economic aid talks, Japanese ambassador Toshikazu Maeda stressed that Japan has adopted the annual base budget system, raising as a new issue the negotiated total loan amount, which had been deemed fait accompli. Whether ambassador Maeda meant to say that the Japanese Government, while agreeing on the total amount of the aid, projects its annual base budget system only superficially or that the Japanese Government can only agree on the initial annual portion of the total amount of economic aid is not clear yet. If the Japanese Government projects the annual base budget system only superficially because of Japan's domestic legal system, the loan amount can be settled technically by diplomatic negotiation between the two countries. However, if Japan meant to say that it does not agree on the total amount and if, as hinted by Ambassador Maeda, the Japanese Government only vaguely puts the amount total, this same method will be repeatedly abused in the future as Japan's ploy. The government's attitude toward this will be keenly watched. [Yu Kyun] [Text] [SK012343 Seoul CHUNGANG ILBO in Korean 28 Jul 82 p 1]

COMMENTS ON JAPAN'S DEFENSE BUILDUP PLAN

[Editorial: "Japan's New Defense Buildup Plan"]

[Excerpts] At its defense council meeting held on 23 July, the Japanese Government finalized a new 5-year defense plan (1983-1987), which had been worked out by the defense agency. This defense plan is considered very significant because it provides a basis for medium and long-term Japanese security and defense programs.

Under this plan, Japan will spend some $64 billion on defense over a 5-year period starting in 1983. Of the total, some $18 billion will be spent for the purchase of major military equipment alone.

This plan includes: 1) reorganization of divisions and an increase in tanks in an effort to strengthen the combat capabilities of the ground self-defense forces, 2) introduction of F-15 fighters from the United States, 3) reinforcement of the combat capabilities of the maritime defense forces by building more escort ships and submarines capable of carrying missiles, and 4) introduction of new air defense missiles for the ground and air self-defense forces.

The foundation for Japan's security has two major sources of support--the U.S.-Japan security pact and Japan's own self-defense power. Therefore, in order to substantially strengthen the U.S.-Japan security system and the ROK-U.S. security system--which is influenced by the former directly and indirectly, Japan should share the defense burden in proportion to its economic power. In this regard, Japan's new defense plan arouses our interest.

Particularly, in time of emergency on the Korean peninsula, Japan is expected to play the role of the rear area support base for the United States in helping to defend South Korea. Therefore, we expect that this new Japanese plan will effectively contribute to strengthening both the U.S.-Japan security system and the ROK-U.S. security system.

This year, the need for strengthening Japan's self-defense power is inevitably bound to grow, particularly in view of the Soviet military buildup in east Asia, including the strengthening of its Pacific fleet and the deployment of backfire fighter-bombers, and the movement of the U.S. 7th Fleet to the Middle East.

We are compelled, however, to be slightly concerned over the recent moves in the Japanese ruling party and the ultra-rightist forces in the party to rewrite the peace constitution and the emergence of a new conservative, ultranationalist ideology as seen in the recent distortion of historical facts in Japanese textbooks.

As a neighbor in the free world, we look at Japan's new defense plan affirmatively. Even so, we hope that this new defense plan does not help strengthen the influence of career military officers and thus adversely affect the post-war civilian ruling system of Japan. We also hope that it does not cause Japan to repeat the mistake of becoming a military power.

KWP RECEIVES MESSAGE ON ANTI-U.S. MONTH

SK301244 Pyongyang KCNA in English 1048 GMT 30 Jul 82

[Text] Pyongyang, 30 Jul (KCNA)--The Central Committee of the Workers Party of Korea received solidarity messages from foreign parties on the occasion of the month of anti-U.S. joint struggle.

The messages express firm and principled support to and solidarity with the Workers Party of Korea and the Democratic People's Republic of Korea in the efforts for national reunification.

The solidarity message from the Central Committee of the Yemen Socialist Party says:

The imperialist forces headed by the U.S. imperialists are supporting the brutal war started by the Zionists for crushing the Palestinian revolution and the Lebanese national movement and are aggravating tensions in many parts of Asia, Africa and Latin America.

These are the very forces which continue backing the reactionary rulers of South Korea and obstruct Korea's reunification.

We always denounce the maintenance of the U.S. military presence in Korea and its continued interference in the internal affairs of the Korean people, regarding them as a threat to the security and peace in this region.

We once again express solidarity with the Korean people in their struggle for reunifying the country without imperialist interference and for their legal rights.

In a solidarity message Emil Boha, general secretary of the Party of National Unity and Progress of Burundi, says:

It gives me great pleasure to extend hearty congratulations to the courageous Korean people upon their constant victories in all fields of the country under the wise leadership of Marshal Kim Il-song, general secretary of the Central Committee of the Workers Party of Korea and president of the Democratic People's Republic of Korea.

The Party of National Unity and Progress of Burundi once again expressed full support to the struggle and efforts of the Workers Party of Korea which is seeking a correct road of building a dignified, independent and prosperous Korea and reunifying the divided country, on the occasion of the month of international solidarity with the industrious Korean people.

Bohamar, Politbureau member and secretary general of the Left Party Communists of Sweden, states in his solidarity message:

It is one of the most urgent problems which brook no delay to accomplish the independent and peaceful reunification of Korea at present.

If Korea's reunification is to be achieved, it is imperative, first of all, to put an end to the military occupation and interference of the U.S. imperialists in South Korea and replace the armistice agreement with a peace agreement in Korea and put a period in the repressive acts and terrorism of the South Korean authorities.

We fully support the proposal for founding the Democratic Confederal Republic of Koryo and the ten-point policy of the confederal state put forward by the sixth congress of the Workers Party of Korea for the achievement of the independent and peaceful reunification of the country.

Solidarity messages also came from the Central Committee of the Panhellenic Socialist Movement, the Executive Committee of the Left Socialist Party of Denmark and the Central Committee of the Communist Party of Denmark.

[Text] Pyongyang, 31 Jul (KCNA)--The dear leader Comrade Kim Chong-il received messages of solidarity from different countries on the occasion of the month of anti-U.S. joint struggle.

Mustafa Jaber, director of the board of the International Institute of the Chuche Idea and chief of the Jordanese group for the study of the chuche philosophy, says in his message of solidarity:

Availing myself of this opportunity, I hold once again that the U.S. troops, the main obstacle to the reunification of Korea, should withdraw from South Korea, taking along all the lethal weapons and military equipment and the present South Korean rulers give up their scheme of war and aggression.

In the belief that the three principles of national reunification and the proposal for founding the Democratic Federal Republic of Koryo advanced by respected His Excellency President Kim Il-song are the most fair and aboveboard ones for the independent and peaceful reunification of Korea, I express once again my full support to the struggle of your friendly people for reunifying the country under the wise leadership of Your Excellency.

I manifest the belief that the cause of anti-imperialism and independence of the Korean people, the Arab people and the peace-loving people of the whole world will surely achieve final victory under the outstanding leadership of respected His Excellency President Kim Il-song, and the dear leader Your Excellency Kim Chong-il, the successor to his revolutionary cause.

B. C. Gupta, chairman of the chuche idea study society of Delhi, India, says: The independent and peaceful reunification of Korea is the unanimous desire of the entire Korean people and world peace-loving people.

The U.S. imperialists occupation of South Korea is the root cause of all misfortunes of the South Korean people.

We strongly demand that the U.S. imperialist aggression troops withdraw from South Korea at once and South Korean society be democratized. We actively support the proposal for founding the Democratic Confederal Republic of Koryo put forward by President Kim Il-song and firmly believe that the Korean people will certainly realise the reunification of the country under Your Excellency's wise leadership.

Robert Williams, chairman of the study centre of the chuche idea of Comrade Kim Il-song in Guyana, says: Though 29 years have passed since the conclusion of the armistice agreement in Korea, the U.S. imperialists are still occupying South Korea, harshly exploiting the people there and resorting to vicious machinations to unleash another war.

As long as the U.S. imperialists' occupation of South Korea continues, the reunification of Korea cannot be achieved nor can peace be expected in Korea and Asia.

On the occasion of the month of international solidarity with the Korea people, we strongly hold that the U.S. imperialists should withdraw without delay from South Korea, taking along all their lethal weapons, and replace the armistice agreement with a peace agreement for creating an effective condition for reunification.

The solidarity messages wholeheartedly wish the dear leader Comrade Kim Chong-il good health and a long life.

NEWSPAPERS SCORE ISRAELI ATTACK ON LEBANON

SK040445 Pyongyang KCNA in English 0420 GMT 4 Aug 82

[Text] Pyongyang, 4 Aug (KCNA)--Papers here today sternly denounce the Israeli Zionists brigandish aggression on Lebanon and atrocious murder there.

In a signed article headlined "Israel Must Stop Atrocious Murder," NODONG SINMUN says:

The barbarous attack on West Beirut once again strips bare for itself that the Israeli Zionists are a group of robbers who have adopted terrorism as their state policy and heinous aggressors who commit all crimes without hesitation, crudely violating the norms of the international community for their aggressive purpose.

The Korean people bitterly denounce Israel's brigandish aggression and demand that the aggressors promptly stop their barbarous bloodbath in Lebanon.

Israel's main object in their war of aggression in Lebanon is to destroy the Palestine Liberation Organisation, crush the Palestinian resistance movement and frame up a puppet regime in Lebanon.

Begin, boss of the Israeli Zionists, had openly threatened that West Beirut would be attacked with arms, if the Palestinian resistance forces refused to accept their brigandish demand. Israel's barbarous attack on West Beirut is aimed at forcing the Palestinian resistance forces to lay down their arms and leave Beirut and Lebanon.

Israel's attack on West Beirut and the bloodbath there are committed under the zealous patronages of the U.S. imperialists.

The U.S. imperialists created a favorable condition for Israel's attack on West Beirut by opposing recently the demand for the lift of the siege around the capital of Lebanon at the United Nations Security Council.

Acting the "arbitrator" in the Lebanese problem, the U.S. imperialists are persistently demanding the Palestinian resistance forces to surrender, thus speaking for Israel, and even kicking up a dust over the landing of the U.S. marines in West Beirut.

It is an invariable strategic target of the U.S. imperialists to suppress the Arab people's liberation struggle by force and defeat the Arab countries one by one and control the oil resources of the Middle East, entrenched in the region. The war of aggression in Lebanon is a military operation launched for this purpose in accordance with the U.S. imperialists script, with Israel as its executor.

The U.S. imperialists can never evade responsibility for the brigandish criminal acts of the Israeli aggressors in Brigandish mass destruction and massacre in Lebanon.

The question can never be solved by the barbarous scorched earth operation or mass destruction.

The U.S. imperialists must take their hands of aggression and intervention off Lebanon, Israel must lift the siege around Beirut and withdraw without delay from Lebanon and all the occupied Arab lands.

The Middle East problem cannot be settled, unless the lawful national rights of the Palestinian people are restored.

MINJU CHOSON in its commentary titled "Brigandish Aggression Must Be Stopped" says:

The U.S. imperialists and the Israeli Zionists can neither bar the peoples just cause nor realise their criminal design of aggression by any robber-like aggression and brutal slaughter.

The Korean people will as in the past, so in the future, too, actively support and encourage the just struggle of the Palestinian and Arab peoples.

The Israeli aggressors must discontinue at once their aggression on Lebanon and withdraw from it and all the occupied Arab lands without delay.
